First Generation Scholarship

The First Generation Scholarship is a $10,000 award, payable at $2,500 a year for up to four years or upon receipt of the scholar's first undergraduate degree, whichever comes first. Scholars must be enrolled on a full time basis (minimum of 12 hours per semester), and maintain a cumulative grade point average (GPA) of 2.5 or better to be eligible for renewal each year. Other requirements will be listed on the scholarship policies at the time of award.

The First Generation Scholarship program is designed for students from select Texas high schools who are the first in their family (includes parents and siblings) to go to college or to complete a college degree. This scholarship is awarded to students who have demonstrated an ability to overcome academic and socioeconomic adversity. Awards are based on high school performance, test data, parental factors, and potential for success at The University of Texas at Austin.
